

Our final course in this course series, Applying Machine Learning to your Data, will cover machine learning topics more in-depth but here we did want to introduce Vertex AI Workbench:

<https://cloud.google.com/vertex-ai-workbench>

One of the BIGGEST advantages for Data Analysts is the ability to have both your SQL code AND your documentation (text, images, bash scripts) in a single version-controlled file. I've included an optional lab following this reading item for those who want to get practice using Notebooks with BigQuery ahead of the ML course content.

Enjoy!